ROURKE, whose unfortunate death was mentioned in yesterday's issue. The facts were the same as then stated, and the jury returned a verdict of death from the accidental explosion of a shell at Fort Sumter. AUCTION SALES .- We invite attention to the auction sales of Messrs. WM. McCar and John Camp-

RELL, which will take place to-day, at their sales rooms, No. 136 Meeting street, opposite to the Pavilion Hotel. They comprise a fine assortment of whiskies and rum, furniture, horses, &c. These sales offer rare inducements to the purchaser, and we advise a large attendance. MELANCHOLY ACCIDENT.—We learn from a letter received in this city of a melancholy accident that occurred in the town of Anderson, S. C. On Friday last, Miss Sanau Rurl. EDGE, a daughter of the late John Buttledge, Esq., left her home in Auderson to take a walk, purposing to join her mother and sister, who had preceded her. Not roturning at the customary hour her friends became alarmed and went in search of her, but without success, and it was not until the Loxt day that her body was discovered in Rocky river. It was supposed that having taken the wrong path she had lost her footing and fallen in the river, and no one being near to rescue her had perished.

Robberies have been so frequen lately, that scarcely a night passes without some attempt being made to break into a store or house. On Wednesday night the store of Mr. W. B. BURKE in Chalmers street, was entered by some evil disposed persons, and robbed of a fine coat, two canaries and cages and some smaller articles. The robbers gained access to the building by lifting one of the shutters from its fastenings, and taking out the sash. Mr. Burke had just opened his establishment as a produce store, and the thieves anticipated a heavy haul, but were fortunately mistaken. The case is now in the hands of the detectives, who will soon bring the miscreants

THE CONCERT LAST NIGHT .- Tara's Hall was once again filled last night with a large and very recherche audience, brought together by the twin motive of charity and the laudable desire to engage in the highly refined enjoyment of listening to good vocal and instrumental music. Marion Lodge, No. 2, of L O. O. F., before the war, was one of the most prosperous and efficient benevolent organizations in this city; but losses during the war, and the very large number of claimants upon their bounty, have necessitated an extraordinary effort to replenish the treasury; and the energetic committee of arrangements, assisted by the entire lodge, succeeded in bringing together a large audience, and we hope, also, a large amount of money.

The concert has been long on the tapis, and, BERKHAM and O'NEALE, and their able corps of volunteer assistants, everything passed off remarkably well.

The orchestra, although represented by six instruments only, was excellent-every man being master of his instrument. There were two violins, one bass violin, flute, clarionet and piano. They gave the overtures "Masanillo" and "La Dame Blanche," with admirable effect. The chorusses, also, showed care and industry, though there seemed to be a lack of voices, particularly in the bass. The Duett, sung by Miss G. R. and Mrs. C., -MENDELSOHN'S "Ich wollt meine Lieb' ergosse sich"-was interpreted with much taste and great artistic execution. Miss S. did herself brilliant credit in her Piano Solo, and, being loudly encored, obliged the audience with a second piece.

The solo "Merry Birds," by GUMBERT ("Ich bitt Euch, liebe Voegelein"), a very pretty song, was admirably executed by Mrs. Carrot, and earned ample plaudits. Prof. O'NEALE sang the Tenor Solo (No. 4 on the programme), and always a favorite with the public, was encored, and gratified his admirers with a repetition of the song. The duett "Quet Mara, Quet Terra," sung by Mrs. C. and Mr. F., was conscientiously rendered, and followed by the concluding chorus, the popular "Away, Away!"

DISREPUTABLE CHARACTERS.—Our city has been infested, for a long time, with a set of lazy, worthless colored idlers, who have no apparent means of support, but are to be seen dressed in fine clothes and lounging around the street corners. to rescind the work done the day before. CLEANING BRICKS.—The Burnt District was ornumented during the greater portion of last year by crowds of busy freedmen who could be seen scated in the shadow of an old wall industriously engaged in cleaning the burnt bricks and piling them neatly in rows ready for use. This employment was at one time so common, and the number of freedmen so numerous, that many persons imagined that the day of reconstruction had indeed arrived, and the raids made upon the old walls was only the beginning of the new era. Unfortunately their opinions were erroneous, and their dreams of "cloudcapped towers and gorgeous palaces" have faded and left only the rack behind. The industrious freedmen dropped off one by one, and, before the results of their work could be seen and appreciated, there was scarcely a laborer left, though the harvest was still abundant. The reason for this wholesale descriton is unknown, the stringency of the times and the scarcity of labor may have been the cause, but it is more than probable that the political agitations produced by the Radicals of Congress has stopped the work and caused the apathy that has apparent ly affected both the laborer and his employer. A vigorous onslaught on the ruins would have soon levelled them to the ground, and if no other good result had followed, it would have opened the city to the seabreeze, and by removing the unsightly piles, have afforded a better pasture to the cows than they now possess. At present the burnt district is an eye sore to the community, but it is not yet too late to improve it, and we are pleased to notice that some persons have the energy to keep up the work of restoration. During the past few days a solitary freedman might have been discerned in the vicinity of the der direction of J. P. M. Eppino, U. S. Marshal, con's. old Apprentices' Library sitting on a pile of bricks pants, vests, blankets, &c. like Margus at the ruins of Carthage, but, unlike | Withur & Sox will sell this day at 1014 o'clock, at him, the African of our day was not meditating, lineir sales rooms, corner State and Chalmers streets, ale but industriously hammering away at the obsti- cider, tables, &c. nate mortar. "One swallow does not make a summer," but that solitary freedman is, we hope the advance guard of a mighty host, who armed things that were. So mote it be.

THE HIDERNICON, after a temporary suspension, in consequence of the Odd Fellow's concert last night, will resume operations this evening. The Professor, and Barney, the widow Machiner, and the "girril Judy," will all re-appear with reenperated powers. The tour will be varied to-night and parts of the island visited, hitherto unknown to travellers. An attractive feature will be "the Haunted Guide," or BARNEY and the Ghost. There There is to be a matinee to-morrow afternoon, and a last exhibition to-morrow night. Schools and families will have a fine opportunity to see this splendid panorama to-morrow afternoon.

ASSAULT AND BATTERY .- In referring to the blackberry venders, we had no idea that we had made them the head centres of attraction, but this has proved to be the case. Yesterday afternoon one Edward Gasney a colored youth of a few summers, instigated by the devil and his love of the fruit made a rapid charge at a basket full in the charge of Eugene Ford, an African merchant, and apsetting it, was soon revelling in the spoils. His joy was quickly turned to mourning, whon pounced apon by the police and carried to the Guard House, but being of a musical temperament he consoled nimself by singing, "In the prison cell I'm sleeping &c," and snapped his fingers at fate. His natural ancestor applying for him, he was transferred to her care, as she promised she would beat the ten commandments into him.

BISHOP WIGHTMAN.-The Rev. WM. M. WIGHTinquest yesterday over the body of Mr. JAMES MAN, D. D., L.L. D., one of the Bishops of the M. E. Church, South, is on a visit to this his native city, the guest of his kinsman, Mr. PEMBERrox, in Wentworth street. We announced, some time since, that Bishop W. bad selected Charleston as the place of his future residence, and that he would remove to this city in April. We now learn that he will not be able to accomplish it before next autumn, as circumstances require his further continuance at Greensboro, Ala., where he holds the very responsible position of Chancellor of the Southern University, until his successor, who, we believe, has already been appointed, shall relieve

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS-Hon. R. MUNRO presiding .- The County Docket was continued, and the first case taken up was Dr. James Whalev vs. ELIAS VENNING. B. J. WHALEY, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff. THEO. G. BARKER, Esq., for the defendant. This case was an action brought by Dr. Whaley for loss sustained from worthless cotion seed purchased from Mr. VENNING. He claimed that the seed was sold without a guarantee as to its character. He had planted the seed and had watched it from its early growth to maturity, and was satisfied of its worthlessness. Mr. VENNING had been purchasing seed from every quarter in order to sell it again, and could say nothing about its origin or purity.

Mr. VENNING'S statement was that the plaintiff there was any defect until six weeks or two months after planting, and then only through his attorney. The plaintiff had moreover purchased seed from other parties, which was planted the same time, and without any notification. A number of witnesses were examined and the case was argued on both sides with great ability. The jury retired, and after a long absence, brought in a scaled ver-Besides this case, no general business of impor-

UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT-Hon, GEORGE S. BRYAN presiding .- The United States vs. WIL-SON E. PROTHEO, of Aiken, S. C., for violation of the Internal Revenue laws as a distiller, was taken up. Major D. T. CORBIN, District Attorney, for he prosecution, and C. H. SMONTON, Esq., for the defence. A number of witnesses were examined for both prosecution and defence, and the defendant being placed on the stand, denied his guilt in

The case was a peculiar one, and the testimony very conflicting. The principle witness for the prosecution being a Mr. Robert H. Lofton, who was indicted for the same offence, but who turned State's evidence. His allegations were not supported by facts, and were frequently contradicted by other witnesses. His statement was that Mr. PROTHEO owned the still and grounds, and that he paid a nominal rent of $75 per month for the use of them. Mr. P. was in copartnership in the distillery, receiving three-fourths of the profits, and had frequently run the still in his absence.

Mr. Proturo acknowledged having sold whiskey but denied being connected with the still. Able arguments were delived both by the prosecution and the defence, but the character of the prosecuting witness had evidently weakened his testitimony, and a verdict of Not Guilty was rendered.

April 10 Office of the World Mutual Life Insurance

Company, No. 117 Broadway. NEW YORK, May 1, 1867. Dear Sir :- After a careful and thorough examination nto the merits of the various Life Insurance Companies doing business in this city, I have selected the WORLD MUTUAL as the one for which, and with which, I can work with the best assurance of giving present and lasting satisfaction to my friends who shall desire to avail themselves of the privilege of securing an absolute inheritance to their families, or a sure support of their own declining years. The reasons for this selection are: 1. The World is a Mutual Company, and therefore insures its policy holders at cost-tach policy holder sharing its surplus income.

2. It has an unusually large guarantee Capital-$200, 000-paid in and invested, for the additional security of policy holders; thus giving the insured all the advantagos of a Stock Company, with none of its disadvantages. 3. It-Mutual Premiums are lower than those charged by the average of Companies, and are such as experien has proven to be satest and most economical to the poli-prudently and safely invested, and do not consist of irre-6. Its dividends are payable annually after the second year, thus giving every policy holder the benefit of the surplus income received during the year-not delaying him three or five years-not appropriating the profits on his money for three or four years to others in case he ceases to pay premiums, or in case of death. 7. Its dividends are made upon business pracciples. Each policy holder receives the benefit of each payment and of the time his capital has been in the Company precisely as every well conducted business house divides its profits among its partners. 8. Thirty days' grace are allowed in the payment of Companies, and are only such as justice and safety re 12. Policies are not rendered void because of suicide this Company taking the rational position of attributing suicide to insanity.

Lastly. Its management is absolutely unsurpassed, and commends it in the highest terms. A glance at the names of Officers and Directors will indicate the position and character of the Company. No better men car be found in any country-no names indicating better business talent-higher financial position and integrity of character, or greater executive ability. Failure here is simply impossible. Altogether, I know no Company presenting so many advantages to the assured; and a careful investigation has not indicated a single defect, nor a point for unfavorable criticism. Soliciting your favorable consideration, I remain, Very respectfully yours,
